

A Message from Sr. Elizabeth...

Don't Miss the Book Fair!

As I look at the coming events of this particular catechetical time, I am reminded that very soon after Easter, we will be having our Book Fair. The Book Fair is always a great opportunity to gather up-to-date information on materials and resources for our Catechetical programs in parish and school. This year, however, it has a particular significance since we will be focusing on the new Roman Missal in our plans for next Fall in parish and school. Publishers have been asked to keep us current on what's happening with parish and school materials as well as parish aides for liturgies and sacraments in relation to the new Roman Missal. I believe publishers will be able to offer us numerous ways of dealing with the Roman Missal in our work next Fall with children, teens, and adults. Those in RCIA programs will also need information on the new Roman Missal. Clergy and pastoral associates will also benefit with information for their ministries. Take advantage of this very timely offer to hear more on the new Roman Missal. We are happy to have the following five publishers with us on May 3rd, 2011 at the Edgewood Resort in Alexandria Bay and on May 4th at the Crowne Plaza Resort in Lake Placid: Loyola Press, Our Sunday Visitor, Pflaum Publishers, RCL Benziger Publications, and William H. Sadlier, Inc. Watch for Book Fair brochures which should arrive soon. Also, check out information in the North Country Catholic in the coming weeks. Parish groups should register quickly to reserve their place. The registration deadline is April 25, 2011, right after Easter. If you plan to be away after Easter, make sure you register before Easter.
